Getting to Hakone

Point 2 Pointers on Bathing Etiquette

These are places to relax and heal your mind and body, so enjoy your time calmly and refrain from any public pool-type antics.

1 Wash before entering the bath!

Wash face and body, then rinse off all soap before entering the tub. Enter naked, without wearing a towel, and enjoy soaking—only soaking.

2 No towels in the tub

Enter the bath slowly, to avoid splashing. As a matter of public hygiene, don't put or let your towel into the water and, in general, follow common-sense manners as well as these etiquette pointers.

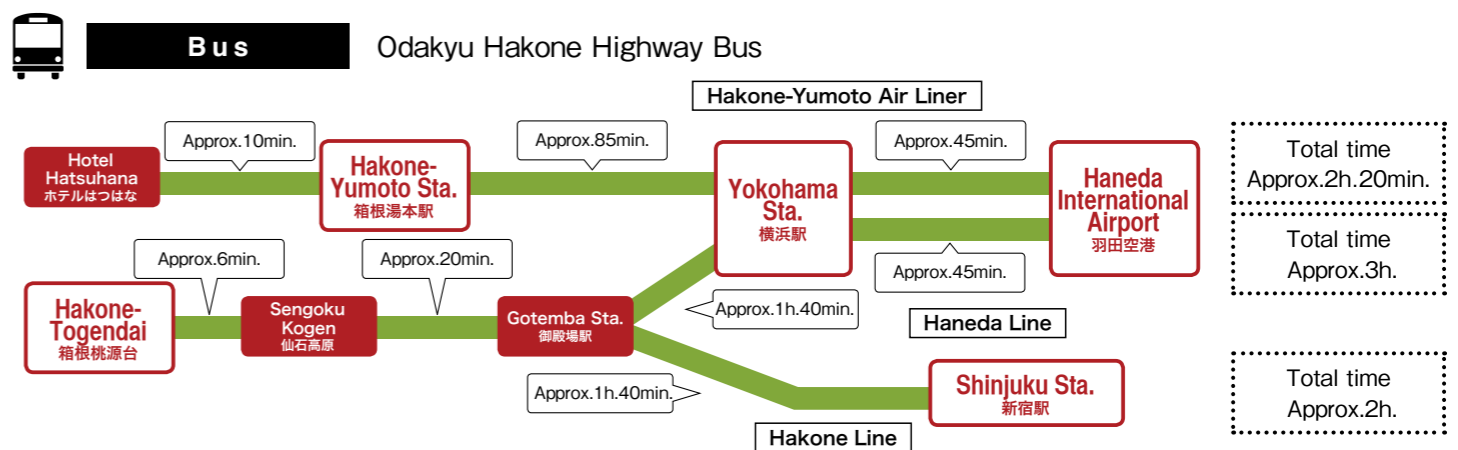

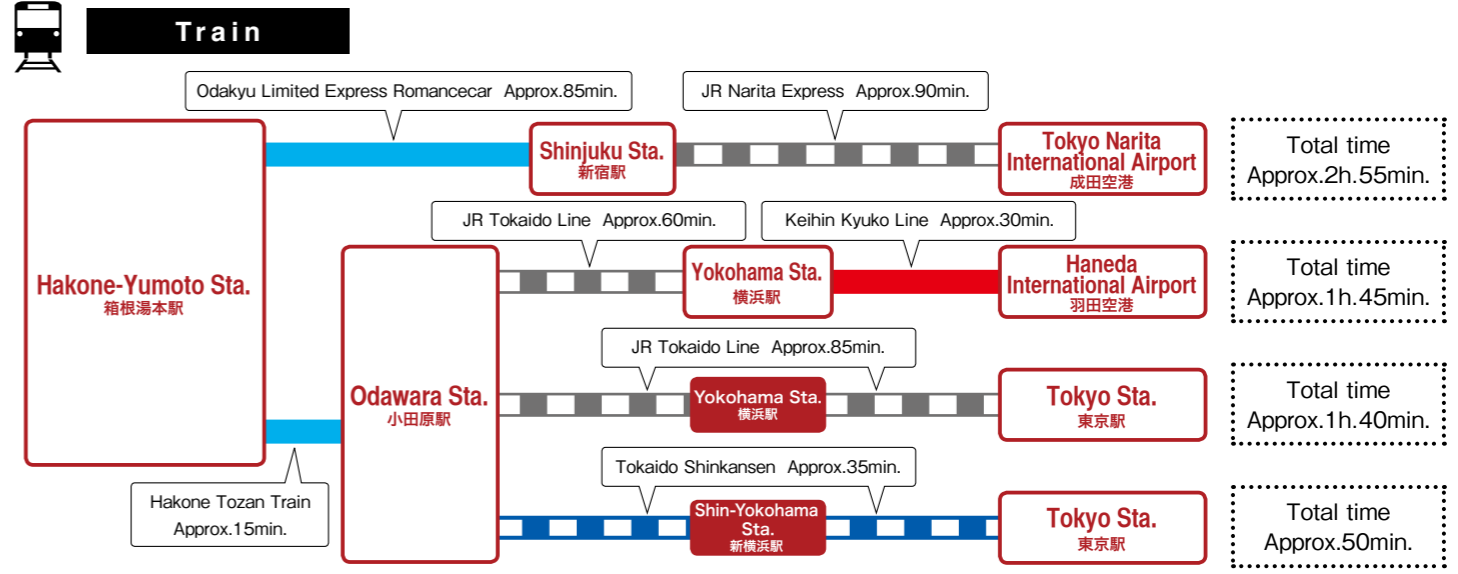

3 Dry off after bath and before entering dressing room

Dry off with a towel in the bathing area, before entering the dressing room, to prevent the dressing room floor getting wet.

Onsen FAQs

- Onsen water can be quite dense and the heat intense, so avoid getting dizzy by limiting your time: don't soak too long (no more than 15 minutes). Immerse yourself up to neck or waist, no deeper, and be sure to hydrate before and after a bath.
- Bath water may have some "floaties" that are natural mineral components, not trash or filthy bits, so don't worry if something tiny comes your way.

*It is an example. Estimated time is subject to change depending on operation and road condition.

Must See in Hakone

Sengokuhara 仙石原

Sengokuhara Pampas Grass Fields 仙石原ススキ草原

Experience the sensual feel of pampas grass fields at the foot of Mt. Daigatake, renowned for showing Hakone autumn at its best. These golden fields, swaying as one in the fall breeze, are wonderful to see and touch.

Owakudani 大涌谷

Created roughly 3 millennia ago by steam explosions, "Great Boiling Valley" is an active volcanic zone sourcing Hakone hot springs and a hot tourist spot for Mt. Fuji views. Feel the volcanic power amid natural beauty.

Moto-Hakone, Hakone-Machi 元箱根・箱根町

Hakone Sekisho (Check-point) 箱根関所

Feel the past come alive at this historic checkpoint for foot and vehicle traffic along the Tokaido Road, linking Edo (now Tokyo) and Kyoto in the Edo period. Inspection and tax collection were held in the Edo-style building.

Cedar Avenue 杉並木

Along the historic Tokaido Road stands an avenue of cedars planted to give shade to travelers. Within this unique community are elders over 350 years old you must meet in their cool shadows.

Hakone Shrine 箱根神社

Established amid the Nara period, this shrine was dedicated to all the local gods of Kanto and now is known for obtaining fortune, protection against evil, wish fulfillment, and safe road travel.

Hakone Stone Buddhas 箱根石仏群

Surrounding Shojin Pond is a stately gathering of Buddha sculptures and stone monuments going back 7 centuries. Among these sacred figures sits the contemplative Rokudo-jizo, carved out of rock and said to be Kanto's largest Buddha figure.

Miyanoshita, Gora 宮ノ下・強羅

Hakone Gora Park 箱根強羅公園

Stroll around this French-styled park, opened in 1914, and get a clear sense of the design in bilateral symmetry around a fountain. Delights of the four seasons include a teahouse, ceramics, and flowers.

Chisuji falls 千条の滝

Note how this waterfall, 3 meters high and 25 meters wide, flows quietly and hangs like a reed screen over moss-covered rocks in the upper reaches of Jakotsu River. Enjoy seasonal changes like summer's glowing fireflies and autumn's fiery leaves.

Odawara 小田原

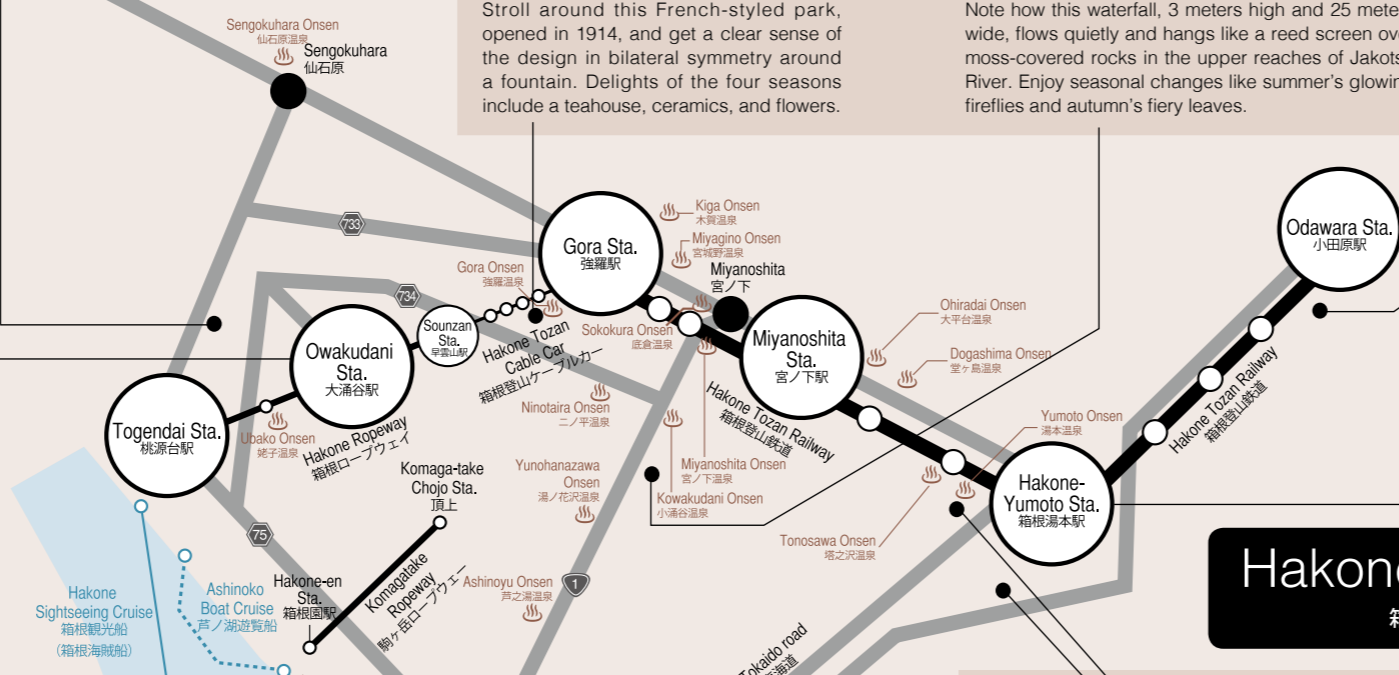

Odawara Castle 小田原城

No trip to Odawara will be complete without visiting this castle built by Omori Yoriharu, regional lord of Nishi-sagami during the Muromachi period (1337-1573). The Hojo Clan, entombed at Soun-ji, succeeded him in ruling from this historic fortress, said to have been the largest in Japan during the Warring States period.

Odawara Fishing port 小田原漁港

In addition to offering soothing sounds of harbor waters, this port serves up a rich sea harvest including horse mackerel and sardine. And being seaside, naturally the harbor has plenty of places to dine on the freshest seafood, possibly lunching on a catch hauled from the ocean by fishermen at dawn.

Hakone-Yumoto 箱根湯本

Hakone Old Tokaido Road 箱根旧街道

Amazake Chaya 甘酒茶屋

Historic teahouse open for business early in the Edo period sits perched on the Hakone stretch of the Tokaido Road, a portion legendary for being the most perilous on the old highway. Don't miss the tangy taste of sweet sake, yet another minor legend dating back to the start of the teahouse as well as naming it.

Ishidatami 石畳

This stone-paved road was built at the beginning of the Edo period to make travel smooth and easy for royals as well as commoners. Present-day travelers can sense the passage of time as they look out on scenery as beautiful and captivating as it was for Edo pilgrims, priest, poets and others.

Soun-ji Temple 早雲寺

Construction of this historic temple was overseen by Hojo Soun, a military commander from the Warring States period (1467-1603). The grounds are done with exemplary taste, containing a traditional stone garden in the dry landscape style as well as a tomb equal to the enduring legacy of five generations of the Hojo Clan.

Yumoto-Kenban 湯本見番

Though it may be hard to believe geisha are not born but made, the daily training here of Yumoto geisha includes dancing, singing, reciting poetry, gracefully pouring drinks without spilling a drop, and more. In addition, seasonal events are held to demonstrate their accomplishments.

Hakone-Yumoto 箱根湯本

Arguably the most vibrant and lively hot spring district in all Hakone, Yumoto will soon convince you of its superior features, like hot springs for day trips, firmly established inns offering traditional hospitality, and streets around the station chock-a-block with restaurants and souvenirs shops.

Owakudani Black Eggs

大涌谷黒たまご

Black eggs, a local specialty, owe their unique look and taste to boiling in hot spring ponds (80°C) and then steaming at 100°C. Watch for yourself as shells turn black when immersed in hot spring minerals. Eat one, legend says, and you'll be blessed by Jizo Bosatsu (bodhisattva assuring longevity and healthy child-rearing) and your life extended by 7 years.

Yuba & Tofu

湯葉 & 豆腐

Tofu comes from coagulating soy milk (pressed from beans) with bittern into small blocks, and yuba from skimming off the top layer of heated soymilk. Hakone tofu and yuba, made with delicious local water, are known for "sweet" flavor and aroma.

Odawara Chochin (Odawara lantern)

小田原ちょうちん

These paper lanterns are made by attaching paper to a frame of thin bamboo sticks and are lit by a candle within. Odawara chochin, said to have been created during the Edo period for travelers crossing the Hakone mountains, can be neatly folded and put away. What's more, they're resistant to rain and fog. Being partially made from sacred trees, they were also used as a talisman against evil.

Yosegi-Zaiku (marquetry goods)

寄木細工

Hakone Yosegi-Zaiku come from combining various kinds of wood to create geometric shapes utilizing wood hues and grains. These are then planed down and affixed to small boxes and other items. This craft dates back to the late Edo period and a wide range of goods, including boxes and coasters, are still made today as traditional Hakone craftwork.

Onsen Manju (hot spring steamed bun)

温泉まんじゅう

This famous hot spring steamed bun is named for hot spring water used in the dough and for being steamed in hot spring vapors. They're sold not only in boxes to take home as gifts but also sold individually in stores, so be sure to try a freshly steamed bun when you visit.

What to choose from the fine assortment of Hakone gourmet foods and traditional goods? A difficult decision, but don't miss out on black eggs (unique to hot springs), tasty buckwheat noodles, elegant marquetry, and so much more!

Hakone & Odawara Gourmet Foods & Good Goods

Soba (buckwheat noodles)

そば

This traditional Japanese food goes back some 300 years and is made from ground buckwheat grain seeds. The deciding factor is water when making the noodles, which then offer a rich aroma and enjoyable texture. Good-quality water gushes in Hakone, so the taste of soba made here is specially delicious and popular.

Umeboshi (pickled plums)

梅干し

Japanese plums or ume are pickled in salt and dried in sunlight. The resulting umeboshi have been used as highly portable food by itinerant travelers passing through Hakone since the reign of the Odawara Hojo Clan and were highly valued in the Edo period by samurai accompanying daimyo. Unique Odawara varieties include shisomaki umeboshi (pickled ume wrapped in perilla leaf).

Kamaboko (fish cake)

かまぼこ

These fish cakes made from kneading then steaming minced white fish are known for their characteristic elastic texture and rich flavor. Transportation was inconvenient in the Edo period, so Odawara kamaboko—as preserved food made from fish caught fresh here—was served at local inns in Hakone. News of its delicious flavor soon spread nationwide.

Seafood Cuisine

海鮮料理

Hakone and Odawara, located between Sagami Bay and Suruga Bay, provide an abundant harvest of seafood, which means there's a wide variety of fresh fish, including sushi. Odawara has its own fishable harbor, so you can enjoy fresh catches of the day.

Wakasagi (pond smelt)

わかさぎ

A freshwater fish of Lake Ashi, wakasagi is a local specialty chosen for the Top 100 Local Specialties in Kanagawa. It's been used in local cuisine throughout the ages, and now you can try a variety of dishes like deep-fried or sweet boiled fish at restaurants near the lake.

Point 3 Japanese Customs for Rooms and Meals

Please take particular care for characteristic Japanese culture and customs when eating meals or staying at ryokan (Japanese-style inns) which have a traditional Japanese atmosphere.

1 It is standard to remove your shoes in the entry hall before entering a room.

In the front entryway take off your shoes while facing forwards and then enter the room. You should then bend down and turn your shoes to face the other way, aligning them neatly.

2 Bowls should be held in your hand when eating.

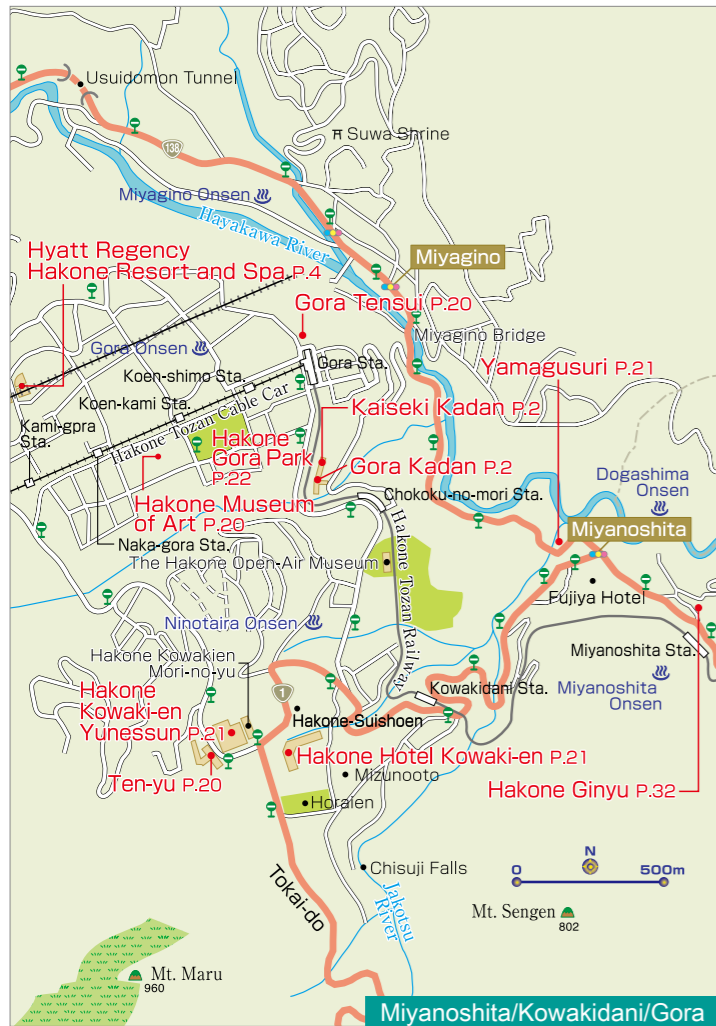

The bowl containing your rice as well as your soup bowl and other bowls should all be held in your hand while eating from them. Don't squeeze the chopsticks too strongly, hold them vertically, cross them over, or stab your food with them.

3 Try wearing your yukata around the ryokan.

A yukata is a traditional type of Japanese clothing, often worn after bathing or while sleeping. Be sure to cover your body first with the right-hand side, then left-hand side. When staying at a ryokan, you're welcome to wander around in yukata.

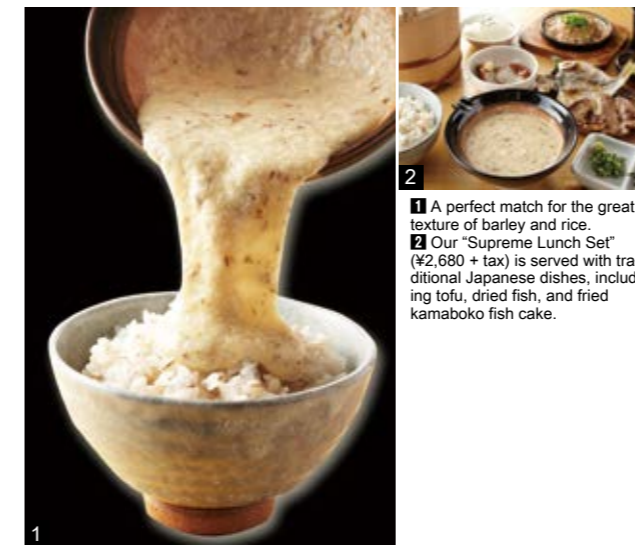

Simple Facts about Japanese-Style Rooms and Tatami Mats

- A Japanese-style room is one laid with tatami mats. One appealing feature is the rooms may be used for many purposes, such as a living room, bedroom, or guest room. A single tatami mat is roughly 180 cm x 90 cm, and is counted as 1 'jo' (a specific Japanese counter for tatami mats).
- Tatami mats provide Japan-style flooring. The face of tatami mats is woven grass, meaning they are highly absorbent, warm in winter, and cool in summer. Their fragrance also has a relaxing effect.

1 Check in while unwinding in a footbath.
2 Relax and enjoy a varied sweets set with nonalcoholic drink (¥1,300) at a café offering superb views.

Point 4

Shrine and Temple Etiquette

Shrines are dedicated to Shinto gods, and temples to Buddhist figures such as bodhisattvas and various incarnations of Gautama. In both of these sacred places you should move and act calmly and speak quietly.

1 Bow slightly before entering a shrine's torii or a temple gate

The ground and space beyond a shrine's torii or a temple gate are considered sacred. Bow slightly before passing through torii or temple gate. As the center of the shrine walkway is the path of a sacred being, visitors should walk slightly to the right or left.

2 Rinse hands and mouth at the chozuya (ritual ablution pavilion)

After passing through shrine or temple entry, you'll find a small pavilion for rinsing hands and/or mouth before you step up to the sacred space occupied by shrine god or Buddhist deity.

Perform the ablution in five simple steps: ① with your right hand, dip the ladle into water and rinse your left hand; ② switch hands and rinse your right hand; ③ take the ladle with your right hand and pour some water into your left palm, and raise that cupped water to your mouth and rinse (taking care that your mouth does not directly contact any part of the ladle); ④ pour water onto your left hand to cleanse it; ⑤ raise the ladle cup straight up, perpendicular to the ground, to let the remaining water pour down the handle and clean it, and then return the ladle to its original spot on the fountain, face down.

3 Offering Ritual: Ring bell and toss money into offering chest

These days coins or bills are used as an offering to deities. In the past, these were made in the form of rice. There is no set amount to offer, so you should decide how much to give according to your wish or prayer, purification ritual, gratitude, or other matter. Temples usually don't have a rope pull, but if there is one, do as in a shrine; if none, make your silent pronouncement and toss gently into the slatted grate atop the offering chest.

4 Shrine Salutation: Bow twice, clap twice, and bow once to greet the deity

Bow deeply before a shrine's outer sanctuary and then make two bows, each at a 90-degree angle. Raise hands to chest center, Western-prayer style, and clap twice at a shrine but not a temple. Return hands to chest center and pray. Lower hands to sides and bow once, at a 90-degree angle. Bow again, deeply, and step back.

5 Shrine and Temple Option: amulet or paper votive

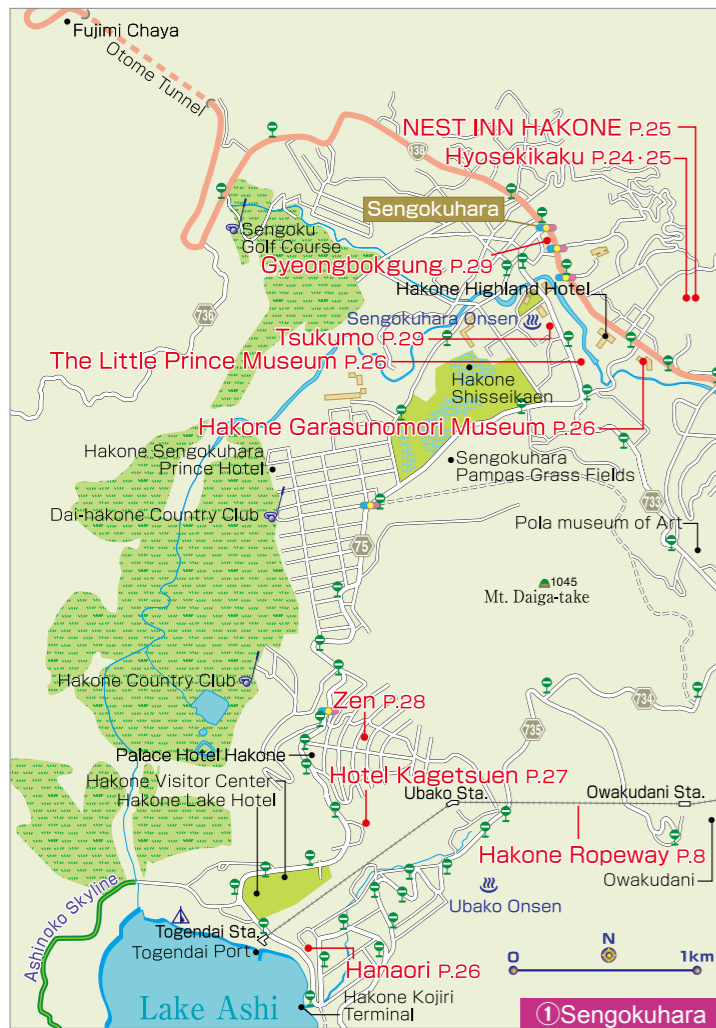

After making an offering, many visitors stop by a building where votives and amulets are sold. They also often draw paper fortunes. An amulet is worn to receive the deity's blessing; a paper votive is read to learn one's fortune. You also have the choice, according to custom, to tie the paper votive on a branch of a tree—on temple or shrine grounds—or you can take it home.

Distinguishing points of a temple

- Temples usually do not have torii but a formal structure of wood, often two stories high, as their gate. Bow slightly before passing through the overhead structure.
- When making offerings or praying at a temple, do not clap the hands. Bow deeply and then bring hands together, chest center (Western-prayer style), as you make your pronouncement.

(with thanks to Hakone Shrine)
